

Reduced Course Load Approval - To be completed by academic adviser:

In general permission to register for less than full time should occur rarely in a student's career. By immigration law the international student should be full time during each fall and spring semester. If the student's activity is equivalent to full time but actually requires less than full time registration (e.g., writing a thesis), this form - one of the following reasons - only once and remain registered for at least a

L "Initial" (first semester of enrollment) difficulty with reading requirements.

L "Initial" (first semester of